WELCOME NEWCOMERS!

If this is the first time you have attended the Traditional Latin Mass, you may have noticed that our parishioners do not dress casually in the church. Since the changes in the Church, few parishes have any kind of dress code. Here, however, we still believe that modesty and appropriate attire are necessary, especially in Church out of reverence for the Blessed Sacrament. Please observe these minimum standards of dress for attendance at Church services:

- Women and girls must cover their heads. Chapel veils or mantillas are available for loan in the vestibule. They should also wear dresses or skirts that cover the knee completely when standing or sitting; slacks, shorts, sleeveless, tight, or low-cut clothing are not permitted.
- Men and boys should wear a suit coat and tie.
- Jeans and other casual attire are inappropriate for attendance at Church services.
- Also, unless you have been attending the Latin Mass exclusively, you should refrain from receiving Holy Communion until you have had an opportunity to meet with Father.

We are always happy to see new faces at Mary Immaculate Queen Church, and we look forward to seeing you again.

Little Sayings of the Saints-Page 124 -125

Good books make illness and sorrow more endurable. S. Hugh of Lincoln.

If a man find it very hard to forgive injuries, let him look at a Crucifix. S. Philip Neri.

Christ poor, and I rich;
Christ fasting, and I full;
Christ naked, and I clothed;
Christ suffering, and I living in enjoyment.
S. Peter Faber, to a rich man who asked the Saint for some words of spiritual counsel.

SAINT ELIZABETH OF HUNGARY
Nov. 19--Queen & Widow – Patroness of Bakers

St. Elizabeth was born in Hungary in 1207. Her father was Alexander II, King of Hungary. At the age of four she was sent for her education to the Court of the Landgrave of Thuringia, to whose infant son she was betrothed. As she grew older her piety increased, but it made enemies for her. Agnes, the sister of her intended husband, together with her mother, who were more inclined to the world conceived an aversion for her, and the courtiers sided with them, treating St. Elizabeth with contempt.

These trials were worse because, the old landgrave being dead, and her future husband still a child, the government was in the hands of his mother; but they served to disengage her heart from the world and contributed much to her sanctification. Fortunately the young landgrave, who had been abroad for his education, was much inclined to religion and highly esteemed her virtue. After their marriage the tide, of course, turned in her favor, but the popularity she now acquired did not alienate her affections from God. She was as true to Him in prosperity as she had been in adversity. One of the distinguishing features of her life was her charity toward the poor; her almsgiving seemed to have no bounds.

Her husband died in 1229, and now the old enmity against her broke out afresh. Her son was excluded from the inheritance due him, her brother-in-law took possession of the castle and turned her adrift upon the world. Her first act was to have a Te Deum sung in the church of the Franciscans to thank God for thus afflicting her. After some time, she was received back into the castle, but until her death she had intervals much to suffer. St. Elizabeth stands out in bold relief in the history of the Church as a woman of heroic fortitude. Her happy death occurred in 1231.
